

Water Resources Development Act (WRDA) of 2007

This legislation authorizes the Army Corps of Engineers to construct various projects for improvements to United States waterways, including expansion of existing locks on rivers, environmental restoration projects and flood damage reduction projects.

Senator James M. "Jim" Inhofe (R-OK)